ABSTRACT

This publication describes the programs and services offered through the Office of Developmental Disabilities of the Illinois Department of Human Services. Introductory information includes an overview of supports and service, a definition of "developmental disability," and a guide to the publication. This is followed by a description of funding methods: grant-funded, Medicaid, or purchase-of-service. Program definitions are then provided for 21 support services (such as "independent service coordination" and "developmental training") and for 10 residential services (e.g., "community living facility," "supported living arrangement"). Codes provide additional information on funding eligibility and agency provider. Also provided is an Illinois map with counties and agencies, a map of Chicago and agencies, and a listing of agencies. An appended chart lists required documents for purchase-of-service initial funding by individual program. (DB)

OVERVIEW OF SUPPORTS AND SERVICES

The Department of Human Services (DHS) - Office of Developmental Disabilities' primary goal is to provide the support that people need to achieve their maximum potential for independence and self-sufficiency, without having to leave their homes and families. A network of over 400 community-based agencies provides services to individuals with developmental disabilities through a wide array of programs that are funded, in part, by DHS' Office of Developmental Disabilities. Habilitation and rehabilitation to maximize an individual's skills and independence are provided. In some situations, however, family supports are not sufficient and out-of-home placements are necessary.

DEFINITION OF DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITY

A developmental disability is a disability which is attributable to mental retardation, cerebral palsy, epilepsy or autism; or to any other condition which results in impairment similar to that caused by mental retardation and which requires services similar to those required by people who have mental retardation. Such disability must originate before the age of 18, be expected to continue indefinitely, and constitute a substantial handicap. (405 ILCS 5/1-106)

HOW TO USE THIS PUBLICATION

The following pages describe the array of services offered through the Office of Developmental Disabilities. Programs are described and grouped in either Support Services or Residential Facilities categories. Funding codes listed on the next page are in the left-hand margin of following pages. Program codes are listed in the right margins. The Appendix identifies the purchase of service program codes and required forms.

SERVICES

Support services are designed to enable individuals with challenging conditions to continue to reside in their own homes and experience normal lifestyles.

Residential facilities provide the means for individuals to live away from their families, in an environment that promotes individual growth through guidance and training, for the highest level of independence and self- sufficiency.

Services may not be available in all areas, and agencies may have waiting lists.

FUNDING METHODS

G Grant-funded programs are provided through community agencies that receive advance funding from DHS to provide specific services in accordance with projections for the number of persons served and the units of service provided.

M Medicaid (Title XIX) provides health care benefits under Title XIX of the Social Security Act, when Department of Human Services local office staff determine that:

- an individual's income and assets are inadequate to pay for medical care per Illinois Department of Public Aid (DPA) guidelines, and
- the individual belongs to an eligible class. Eligible classes include dependent children and their parents (TANF), older persons, people who are blind, or people who have a disability. DPA pays for the eligible medical care of individuals determined to be Medicaid-eligible.

PS Purchase of service funding is reimbursement made to a community agency after services have been provided for a specific individual whose funding was approved in advance by the department.

PROGRAM DEFINITIONS FOR INDIVIDUALS WITH DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES

SUPPORT SERVICES

G Independent Service Coordination - Provides information, referral, and coordination of services including assessment of service needs, development of individualized service plans, arrangement for service delivery, advocacy with service provider(s), analysis of service networks, and follow-up for children and adults. The list of Service Coordination agencies begins on page 11. — 50

G Individual Service and Supports Advocacy (ISSA) - Provided by community service coordination agencies to individuals participating in the federal Home and Community-Based Waiver. ISSA workers visit individuals periodically and review service plans to ensure their needs and general well-being are addressed. — 50d

G Client and Family Support - Provides support services that help an individual remain within a family home, or assist an adult in living semi-independently. Services may include individual or family training, individual and group family counseling, community orientation, or other individualized services. — 16

G Developmental Training (DT) - Prepares adults 18 years of age or older to live and function in an integrated social setting. Individuals receive training in major functional skills that promote independence in daily living and economic self-sufficiency. — 31-31D-31S

G Dental Services - Provides transportation and dental services for individuals who have difficulties obtaining such services from private dentists. — 40

G	Diagnosis and Evaluation - Determines if, and to what extent, an individual has a developmental disability. The person's present level of developmental abilities and needs is evaluated, as are impediments to further development and the cause of the disability. The program identifies the services needed to enable the individual to develop more independence.	15
G	Epilepsy Services - Provides client and family support services for individuals diagnosed with epilepsy, their families, and the community at large. Services include information and referrals, case management, advocacy, counseling, and support groups.	25
G	Family Assistance Program - Provides a monthly allowance for eligible families who have a child with a severe developmental disability living at home. This allowance is generally used to pay for items or services that will benefit the child and help to keep the family together. The current monthly allowance is equal to the amount of the Federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payment. Participants are chosen through random selection.	69Y, 69X, 69Z
PS	Family Assistance and Support Program - Provides direct staff support in the home, on an intermittent basis, to enable a child who is at significant risk of out-of-home placement to continue to live with the family.	72D
PS	Family Home Maintenance - Provides direct staff support in the home, on an intermittent basis, to enable an adult who is at significant risk of out-of-home placement to continue to live with the family.	71
G	Group Day Respite - Provides supervision and care for children and adults in a group setting for a portion of the day, typically before and/or after school or day programs.	88
PS	Home-Based Support Services for Adults with a Severe Developmental Disability - Enables individuals selected to participate in this program to choose a service package that will help them become more independent and allow them to remain in their own homes or apartments. Participants may design a service package with costs up to 300 percent of their Federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payment. Participants are chosen through random selection.	69A...69Z 70A...70Y

PS In-Home Respite - Provides intensive or non-intensive support services to help maintain individuals in their homes. Home settings include biological parents/adoptive parents/guardians, foster parents, or licensed or certified day-care homes. 87D

G Leisure Time - Provides recreational services for children and adults with developmental disabilities in after-school, weekend, and camp programs. 43

G Pre-Admission Screening (PAS) - PAS agencies are contracted community agencies acting as DHS agents to provide comprehensive documentation for the Illinois Pre-Admission Screening system. The requirements imposed by the Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA) to support reimbursement claims under Title XIX of the Social Security Act are documented by PAS agencies. This system determines eligibility for Medicaid-reimbursed services. The list of PAS agencies begins on page 11. 78

G Regular Work - Provides long-term employment program in a sheltered environment. It is designed for individuals who require a high degree of supervision. Participation in a regular work program does not preclude movement into supported employment or other competitive jobs. 38

PS Related Support - Provides funds for medical, adaptive, and supportive equipment that enables an individual to fully participate in his/her Individual Service Plan (ISP). Examples of funded items are special wheelchairs, communication devices, and minor modification to the individual's home. 73
